Las Damas de Arte raises money for art scholarships awarded to the University of Tampa, University of South Florida, Hillsborough Community College and local high schools. Grants are also awarded to local non-profit organizations with art needs. Many of the grassroots projects funded offer developmental art supplies to children who would otherwise not have access to such materials. The support of generous businesses and people like you is critical to the success of Sunday in the Arts and Las Damas. For more information visit our website at www.lasdamasdearte.org.
